North Carolina Guardian Ad Litem

Wilkes County is in need of advocates for the children in our community. Volunteer advocates and attorneys work together to champion children's needs in court. Training is provided, which includes 5 training classes plus an orientation. Our volunteers include retirees, stay-at-home parents, and working people with flexible schedules that allow for them to go to court every 6 months or so. After training, the average time commitment is just 4-6 hours a month, much done by phone and email. Won't you consider being an advocate in the Wilkes Guardian ad Litem Program? Contact 336-651-4421 for more information, our next training for new volunteers begins Oct. 12, 2021. Thank you!

Wilkes Prison Ministry

While it is still summer, WPM is preparing to share Christ's love with those who will be spending Christmas in Wilkes Correctional Center. We provide a meal from a local restaurant, and a bag with necessities and treats. For many these are the only Christmas gifts they will receive. Any monetary gift, big or small, is appreciated. Please make all checks to Wilkes Prison Ministry and mail to PO Box 253, N. Wilkesboro, NC 28659.
